

CONFIDENTIAL

ER 4-5115

27 August 1953

20th
Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mrs. McCaffree:

In furtherance of Mr. Dulles' intention in his letter of 24 July addressed to you, I am happy to report in his absence that we have had word that [redacted]

25X1

Mr. Dulles
[redacted] has been in touch with the U.S. Naval Attache [redacted] for the evaluation of his invention. This will, of course, take some time because the Attache must refer the details back to Washington for headquarters consideration.

I know Mr. Dulles will be grateful if you will be good enough to pass this word along to Mrs. Eisenhower.

Archival Records
Return to Records Center
Immediately After Use

Sincerely,

SIGNED

[redacted]
Assistant to the Director

DOCUMENT NO. 11
NO CHANGE IN CLASS. DECLASSIFIED
CLASS. CHANGED TO: TS 20/1
NEXT REVIEW DATE: 20/1
AUTH. MR. FO APPROVED FOR RELEASE 2003/02/27
DATE 2203/11 REVIEWER: [redacted]

REL:vml
Distribution:
orig - addressee
1 - official w/basis
1 - reading
1 - REL chrono

25X1

25X1

CONFIDENTIAL CIA-RDP80R01731R000900090014-3 Re

15264

House

25X1

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Approved For Release 2003/02/27 : CIA-RDP80R01731R000900090014-3

25X1

25X1

12 August 1953

Mr. Allen W. Dulles
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

Shortly after my last letter to you, the local Naval Attaché, acting upon my request, asked [redacted] to call upon him to explain the details of his invention.

From this interview it was learned that the invention in which he was trying to interest the United States Government involved the attachment of heavy springs to the feet of paratroopers which would cushion the shock of their landings. The invention has been patented in Australia, but I am not sure whether this approval augurs well for its acceptance by the U.S. Government, since the Australians are notoriously open-minded and may have been kindly disposed because of their long association with the kangaroo.

In any event, [redacted] gave complete details of his invention to the Naval Attaché who has forwarded them to the appropriate agency of the Government to analyze and evaluate the merits of the invention.

25X1

25X1

When an evaluation of [redacted] invention is received by the local Attaché, I shall forward the findings to you.

With kindest personal regards, I remain,

Faithfully yours,

25X1

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Approved For Release 2003/02/27 : CIA-RDP80R01731R000900090014-3

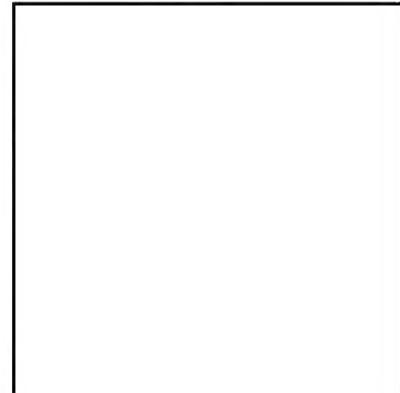

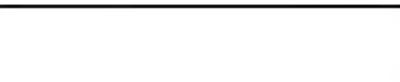

25X1

25X1

25X1

24 July 1953

25X1

25X1

I appreciate your good note of 3 July 1953 and I have passed on the information to Mrs. Eisenhower. Kindly keep me advised of any developments.

Also, many thanks for the Nasr-ed-Din Hodja book. I recall our swapping stories on this subject when we last met.

I am following your work with deep interest and appreciation.

Faithfully yours,

Allen W. Dulles

AWD/c
Distribution:
Orig--addressee
1 cc--Personal
1 cc--Official w/ basic
1 cc--Reading

25X1

21 July 1953

Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mrs. McCaffree:

Some weeks ago you sent me excerpts from a letter which [redacted] had written to Mrs.
Eisenhower with regard to her son. The [redacted]
were good friends of mine during my days in [redacted] [redacted] and I understand that they are well known to the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Will you kindly tell Mrs. Eisenhower that I have arranged through [redacted] to look into the case of young [redacted] and to be of any reasonable help to him. As soon as I have a further report, I shall pass it on to you for Mrs. Eisenhower.

25X1
25X1

25X1

Faithfully yours,

[Signature]

Allen W. Dulles
Director

AWD/c
Distribution:
Orig—addressee
1 cc—Personal
1 cc—Official w/ basic reference material
1 cc—Reading